

Westerly Town Council Reconsiders

Now Asks For Commissioner Chesebro's Resignation by December 1st—Bids For New Town Hall to be Opened November 20th—D. A. R. Chapter's Annual Election—Masonic Guests Hike Back From Stonington.

At its session Wednesday evening the Westerly town council reconsidered its vote taken last Monday of not accepting Highway Commissioner Elhu Chesebro's resignation. The council asked for his resignation by Dec. 1st.

The bids for the contract for building the proposed town building and courthouse at the corner of Union and Broad streets will be opened by the joint commission of the town and state Nov. 20 in the town clerk's office, and if there is satisfactory bid within the appropriation for a granite building that material will have the preference and the building will be constructed of Westerly granite. If not, the building will be of brick, with granite trimmings. The contract specifies that the building now on the corner and the one in Union street be removed by the town, but the Nestor building, so-called, must be raised by the contractor and the material removed from the premises. The contractor will be required to clear the premises for the new building and to save all loam and gravel to be used in the grading, although the grading work is no part of the contract. The stonework in the underpinning and walls on the site will be the property of the contractors, and such portions as is approved by the architect may be used in the foundation of the new building. It will be a part of the contract that the town will be held harmless should any damage result to the adjoining property of the Westerly fire district.

The original plan contemplated a building of brick, but specifications and plans for a granite building were prepared in compliance with a vote of town meeting at the instance of citizens interested in the granite industry of Westerly. The same general style of architecture is adopted for the building, whether of granite or brick, and the interior plans are practically identical. In order to have the building of native material it is understood that local granite manufacturers will bid for the contract and that the figures will be as low as is consistent with good work and at a small margin of profit.

The membership of Phebe Greene Ward chapter, Daughters American Revolution, was largely represented at the annual meeting held Wednesday afternoon in the assembly hall of the Memorial building. After the reports of the officers were read and approved, the officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: Mrs. Eibert W. Flaska, regent; Mrs. Edward M. Burke, vice regent; Mrs. Charles D. M. M. recording secretary; Mrs. Edwin Hall, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Frank F. H. treasurer; Mrs. William Secar, registrar; Miss Helen D. M. M. M. The board of management is composed of the officers and the following named ladies: Mrs. Samuel H. Davis, Mrs. Hattie Barber, Mrs. Frank Larkin, Mrs. Fannie Holmes, Mrs. A. A. Palmer, Mrs. J. N. Lewis, Mrs. Elsie Burdick and Mrs. Charles Secar.

Local Laconies.
The Catholic club is planning for a ladies' night reception.
The license issue certainly did bring out a full vote in Westerly.
Rev. Dr. John Neale is spending a vacation in the Maine woods.

The towns of Charleston and Richmond voted in favor of license.
An out of town concern has leased the Langworthy store in Main street.
The foundation has not yet been laid for the clubhouse of the Westerly Yacht club.

The physical condition of Water Commissioner John J. Carney is somewhat improved.
There are no vacant stores available for saloon in the real business center of the town.

That the mill building of the Westerly Narrow Fabric Company has been leased for a garage is denied.
There is nothing doing in football at the Westerly High school, and interest in basketball is on the wane.

Chief of Police Thomas E. Brown is on vacation. Sergeant Edward E. West is acting as deputy chief.
Alfred G. Vars has sold his interest in the Isaac Vars farm to Merrill J. Wilcox and Medora Vera Wilcox.

There are at least three social clubs in Westerly where the use of intoxicants is prohibited. The club rooms. Sixteen contractors have signed intention of bidding for contract to build the Westerly town building and courthouse.

The Westerly town councilmen met Wednesday evening and in compliance with law canvassed the vote on liquor license.

Dr. John L. May was in Providence Wednesday assisting at an operation by Dr. John Keefe upon Mrs. William Dolan of Westerly.

The members of the Young Men's Republican club of Westerly are planning to attend the usual ratification meeting in Providence.

With only 70 qualified electors, some leading advocates of license declare that the citizens did it, although there are 1,438 voters in the town.

In Rhode Island towns the town council perform duty like unto that of the county commissioners of Connecticut in regard to liquor licenses.

A set of nine boilers is being installed in connection with the new plant being constructed at Bradford for the Bradford Dyeing association.

Miss Grace Douglass Arnold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Arnold, and Samuel Moran were married Tuesday evening by Rev. Clayton A. Burdick.

Councilman C. Clarence Maxson of Westerly is a member of the state returning board and was in Providence Wednesday in connection with his duties.

It is said that interference in district work by workers of another district in the effect of reversing the intention of some voters from no-license to license.

The counters in the first representative district completed their work in record time Tuesday. The polls closed at 6 o'clock and the count was completed at 7 o'clock.

Although stipulated in the sale that the buildings on the site of the proposed town building and courthouse must be removed by Nov. 10, the work has not been commenced.

As there has been no reported violation of law against any saloon keeper of Westerly during the license year, it is probable that renewals will be granted to present license holders, if application is made.

The members of the Fifth company, Cavalry, are completing arrangements for their fair and reception to Governor Pothier and staff and to the Norwich companies of the Connecticut National guard.

The annual meeting of the Washington County Agricultural society was held in Kingston. The board of officers were re-elected, including William F. Saunders of Westerly as vice president and member of board of directors.

A party of Westerly Masons visited Charity and Relief lodge of Mystic Tuesday night, going in a large touring car. On the return trip the car on reaching Stonington, balked, then stopped and refused to budge. As a result seven of the eight Masons hiked back to Westerly.

The Local Temperance legion of Bradford elected their officers in annual meeting: Miss Effie Vars, superintendant; Ray Kenyon, president; Thomas Pignatario, vice president; Edith McCall, secretary; Howard Potter, treasurer; Russell Potter, organist; Leland Ennis, Russell Potter, flower mission committee.

Among the laborers employed in the railroad improvements are a number of local residents and members of the officers' union. These are working to induce their fellow laborers to join the union and demand an eight hour workday. Thus far the effort has been unsuccessful, and the contractors declare this effort is the reward of hiring local laborers.

OBITUARY.

Sharon D. Beach.
Ansonia, Conn., Nov. 8.—Sharon D. Beach, a lifelong and highly esteemed resident of Seymour, passed away to- day at his home on Humphreys street. Mr. Beach had been in failing health for more than a year, but his illness did not assume a critical nature until last week. Since that time his recovery had not been expected. Death was due to Bright's disease.

Horace D. Morse.
Winsted, Conn., Nov. 8.—Horace D. Morse, 91 years old, one of the old residents of this place, and a native of Natick, Mass., died tonight as the result of a shock. He was a veteran of the civil war, having served in a Massachusetts regiment. He leaves seven children.

George McBundy.
Grand Rapids, Mich., Nov. 8.—George McBundy, a prominent attorney of this city, died yesterday at Antwerp, where he had gone in search of health. McBundy was 56 years old. He once served in the United States diplomatic service at Havre, France.

Mrs. William S. Carrington.
Hartford, Nov. 8.—Mrs. William S. Carrington of this city, a native of New Haven, died here today at the age of 92.

Democratic Sweep at Taff's Home.
Cincinnati, Nov. 8.—Complete returns for mayor at yesterday's election show that Henry T. Hunt, democrat, received a plurality of 3,298. Every man on the democratic ticket has been elected. Miss Edith Campbell was elected member at large of the school board, the first time a woman has held such an office in this city.

Beattie Taken to Penitentiary.
Richmond, Va., Nov. 8.—Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., condemned to die Nov. 24 for the murder of his young wife, was removed early today from the city jail to the penitentiary to await his execution. He was locked in a cell in the condemned ward adjoining the electrocution chamber.

Bad Complexions Removed by Absorption

(From Happy Homes)
It was discovered not long ago that ordinary mercurized wax had the power to absorb an old, faded or discolored complexion—or more literally, the old cuticle, or outer skin—revealing the fresher, healthier under-skin, blooming with the pink of life and the glow of youth. The dead and half-dead cuticle comes off so gradually, in fine, flour-like flakes, that there is no pain, no discomfort and no detention from one's everyday duties. Of course such troubles as chaps, freckles, moth patches, liver spots, and fine lines, go with the discarded skin. Mercurized wax, which druggists generally have in stock, should be spread over the face at night before retiring, in the manner cold cream is used. In the morning it should be washed off with warm water, followed by a dash of cold water.

MISSIONARIES SPEAK IN NORWICH

pagoda, but the new woman of Christian countries was not here.
In Burma the work is bearing plentiful fruit and the Baptist mission is increasing wonderfully. At Canton, China, where they pray to ancestors, one of the latest what is to be the future of this vast empire. Will it become a Christian country? In Japan the rope of human hair may reach us a lesson in sacrifice. In Korea the power of influence is shown in the native's tribute to Dr. Davis. "He best man. When he was a child he believed in God." And here in America we have heathen as well—Indians, foreigners—and others. But as the South-Sea Islands, which have been at dawn, so the cross of Christ is bending and all nations begin to see the gleam. Mrs. Theodore Richards brought greetings from the board of the Pacific islands, which has been working for forty years among the various races in its own territory and whose aims and purposes are the same as yours.

A Word from Canada.
Mrs. S. H. E. Moody of the Canadian Woman's Board also brought greetings from this sister society which is working together with the Woman's board in West Africa. This board has 60 auxiliaries extending from Victoria to eastern Quebec, and does home as well as foreign work. It also has associate members. It held its 25th anniversary this summer and a message of greeting was expressed in a rising vote. Notice was given of a reception for Mt. Holyoke alumnae to be held at the home of Mrs. A. J. Vaughan on Rockwell terrace from 3 to 5 p. m., and Mrs. J. M. Huntington spoke of the luncheon and Mrs. Bacon of the children's service at 4 p. m.

An Ancient Seat of Hinduism.
Miss Mary T. Noyes of Maudra, India, then gave a graphic description of conditions in India in her address, An Ancient Seat of Hinduism, which she gave in substance as follows: Ancient literature proves that the Hindu race held its sway here at least fifteen hundred years ago, and has had ample time and opportunity to uplift and civilize the people of this continent.

of the missionaries' home life in Prague and of the extreme difficulties in housekeeping there, where the doors must even have to be chained to the floor to keep them from being stolen. She told the story of her two maid and spoke of the change which shows those women who become Christians.

Mrs. J. W. D. Carter of Portland, president of the Western Maine branch, touched upon the value of a practical and helpful talk upon the difficulties in the far away country churches of Maine to get the busy women to form or sustain a foreign missionary society. An excellent dinner given by one of these places suggested to her the idea of giving one each year and sending the proceeds to the mission field, perhaps having a paper read at the same time. This idea has been willingly accepted and may prove a saving for the problem in this state.

Dr. Ruth Hume of Amesbury, Ind., gave an interesting talk upon medical work there, and Miss E. Harriet Stanwood, home secretary, gave humorous reminiscences of first work which, from her long association with it, none knows more intimately than she. She spoke of her first visit to the Eastern Connecticut branch and of the many others which she has made since then. She urged each one to do her work as well as that others might step in and carry it on any time.

Mrs. Charles H. Daniels, the president, was especially pleasing in her talks, given in the form of limeticks and having witty allusions to the time and the occasion.
